

Pre-Work Screening:

A post-offer pre-work screen will assure you that you are investing in an employee physically fit to perform your job. Administered only by specially trained and certified professionals, a pre-work screen tests the physical demands specific to the job you are hiring to. Performed at our place or yours (depending on equipment needs), a physical job demands analysis is required in order to devise the test, administered for each new hire.